INTERYEAR SPORTS AT M.A.A.A. RESULTED IN OVERWHELMING WIN FOR SOPHS' REPRESENTATIVES

Second Year Men Ran Up a Total of 72 Points—Freshies, 24—Seniors, 12, and Juniors, 9.

DAN SUTHERLAND WON THE ALL-ROUND CHAMPIONSHIP

Eric Cushing a Close Second—Smelzer, a Freshman, Well on the Heels of Cushing — Weather Against Record Breaking

The Inter-Year Sports, held yesterday afternoon at the M.A.A.A. grounds, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Sophomores, the final result being: Sophs. 72 points, Freshies 24, Seniors 12, and Juniors 9. The all-round championship for the best individual performance was won by Dan Sutherland with a total of fifteen points, which he scored as a result of gaining three firsts. He was victorious in all the weight events, doing very well in the shot put and discus throw. Cushing was second with fourteen points, he having three seconds and a first. He also ran in the quarter-mile, in which, if he had been able to get a third, he would have tied Sutherland for the championship. Smelzer was third with ten points, a first in the hundred yard dash and in the high jump. In both these events he did remarkably well, especially so in the sprint, when he equalled the college record of ten and a fifth seconds, which had been made by Morrow '04, and equalled by Hollins '10.

The pole vault was won handsily by Cushing, the present holder of the record. Yesterday he only came within eight inches of his former good mark, but the climatic conditions were not suitable for breaking records. Marsh, a new man, was second in this event; he has a good style and many, under careful training, add several inches to the height to which he can go. Antill, a Freshman, was third. The hundred yards dash was won by Smelzer, as has been mentioned above.

It was a splendid race, but the winner jumped into the lead at the start and finished about four feet ahead of Heron, who was second. Fraser was third. His entry did not get in in time for his name to appear on the official programme, but he managed to get into the race all right. Hillier, who was expected by many to lead the field, did not show anything; he met with an accident to his foot about two weeks ago, and the injury still bothers him. No heat was necessary in this race, or, in fact, in any of the events during the afternoon, as several names were scratched in most of the races.

In the sixteen pound hammer throw, Sutherland had things all his own way; his throw of a hundred and one feet four and a half inches was over forty feet better than the next man could do.

White, of Macdonald College, ran a nice race in the half mile. The time was slow, but it certainly was not a day on which good times could be looked for. White led his field right from the start, and was never headed; he assigned the defence of the race to him when he finished, and can be looked upon as being able to do much better time than he did yesterday when the Intercollegiate meet comes off next Friday.

well in hand; he has a nice stride and can be counted upon to do well next Friday.

Sutherland made another easy win, the sixteen pound shot-put. His best distance yesterday was thirty-seven feet four inches, which is just a little less than one foot under the record. In the discus throw he also had an easy first, his best attempt being one hundred and seven feet two and a half inches, which is quite creditable. In the one mile event, Rutherford, ran a fine race, and finished in the fair time of four minutes fifty-one and four-fifths seconds. Crombie was second, and Skinner, another Macdonald College entry, carried off third place. A large field ran in this race, but the three men that finished in the premier positions soon broke away from the rest and fought it out for the first place.

Smelzer won the high jump from Cushing, he having to go five feet four to do it. After he had won the event he tried for a record, but could not better what he had done in the competition. Cushing ran a pretty race in the three miles, he nearly lapping the third man, there being only three entries. The time was very good, considering that Cushing was never pressed at all, and had plenty of steam left at the finish. He is a good man in the long distance, and may be able to do some useful work for the Red and White next week.

McGill had her own little war yesterday when the Sophomores and Freshmen had their innings previous to the inter-year sports at the M.A.A.A. grounds. Those in the know say that the affair was the equal of any Sophomore-Freshman clash in some time, and certainly the first and second year men went at it hammer and tongs during their time upon the programme. Like most similar engagements, the honours of the day fell to the entire satisfaction of the Sophomores, but it was only after the hardest kind of a struggle that the Freshmen declared themselves beaten. The Freshies showed unexpected strength in the early part of the clash and for a time the Sophs had their hands full to deal with the situation. Their experience and organization were of much assistance, however, and contributed in no small degree towards bringing about the downfall of the Freshmen.

The Sophomores assembled on the campus at 9.30 o'clock, and thence marched to the M.A.A.A. grounds, preceded by two captive Freshmen clothed in feminine garb and by the ammunition wagon. There was a rumour current that the Freshmen intended mobilizing at the grounds at nine o'clock in order to secure the advantages of selecting their own ground for battle, and, as it subsequently developed, several did congratulate them but fled on the approach of the little Sophomore army. At the grounds the latter was reinforced by a number of second year students who reside in Westmount.

The Sophomores immediately set about the defence of their prenable positions. To the different facilities distributed to the different sections of the grounds, as it was not known at what point the Freshmen might attack or whether they would divide into two or more sections. The Arts students in charge of the western and southern sides of the grounds; Science of the eastern and a portion of the grand stand; and Medicine of the rest of the grand stand. After the Freshie prisoners had been told just what was thought of them and had been tied to convenient posts, outposts were stationed to warn of the approach of bodies of Freshmen and also to escort to headquarters any straggling first year students. The numerous crates which had been carted at the head of the procession were then opened and their contents—thirty dozen of the ripest kind of hen-fruits—distributed to the different defence stations, together with the barrels of whitewash solution without which no Freshman-Sophomore "rush" would be complete. With these precautions arranged, the Sophs, with the exception of the guard and outposts, settled down to a game of football which lasted until noon. One of the prisoners lashed to a coalpost made a break for liberty in the midst of the game, having in some manner freed himself, but was soon recaptured by a body of alert Sophomores who set out in pursuit.

Recommencing parties of Sophomores reported having had several bruises with the enemy who almost invariably turned tail and fled at their approach. Five further prisoners were, however, brought in by parties of Sophs, being taken from street cars and in some cases from their homes.

At twelve o'clock a rush was made for the refreshment room where the lone attendant was kept busy for an hour catering to the inner needs of the students. Later, an organ grinder was brought into requisition to take care of the entertainment of the Sophs and their Freshie guests. At one o'clock outposts brought in word that the Freshmen were gathering in the vicinity of Atwater Avenue and Dorchester Streets and the defenders were at once distributed to their stations in preparation for an attack. They had not long to wait. Within a quarter of an hour, the Freshmen suddenly appeared on the street to the east of the grounds, where the attacks of the first year men are usually delivered. All possible reinforcements were hurried to the spot and it seemed that the invaders would have a difficult task in forcing an entrance in their survey of the grounds, however, the Sophs had overlooked the weakness of

MARITIME CLUB HELD SMOKER LAST EVENING

First Meeting a Great Success—About Fifty Out

A very successful smoker was held last night in the Union, of the Maritime Club, about fifty members attending.

The meeting opened with Rule Britannia, sung by all the members. A forceful address by Mr. Kinney, the president, followed. Addresses were also given by Dr. Sullivan, the Hon. Vice-President, Mr. Macintosh, and Mr. Corbett, the secretary of the McGill Y.M.C.A. The speeches of these three men were received with an unusual amount of applause, and it is to the credit of the officers of the Maritime Club that they were able to secure such brilliant men.

A good piano solo was rendered by Mr. C. J. Tidmarsh, and Mr. John Regan gave several selections on his violin. The refreshments must not be overlooked, as they formed a large part of the evening's entertainment. It is certain that each and every member of the Maritime Club found it very enjoy-

The entertainment for the afternoon is to be the presentation of certain scenes from Dickens' "Dombey & Son." Rehearsals have been going on for some days and the different performers have their parts down to perfection. The cast is not large but varies from an old sea captain to a young girl.

Letting the parts and it is hoped that the performance may come up in every way to plays given by The Delta Sigma Society in former years. The cast is as follows:—Miss M. PROFESSOR DAY LEAVES TO TAKE POST AT R.M.C.

Physics Department Loses Very Popular Lecturer

The students of McGill will learn with very much regret that Professor Day, Assistant Professor of Physics, has accepted a position as Head of Physics at the Royal Military College, Kingston. He leaves on Monday to take up his new position.

Professor Day came from Boston University in 1908 as Demonstrator in Physics and has worked himself up to the position of Assistant Professor. He developed into an exceptionally good lecturer and was one of the most popular professors in the Faculty.

He has charge of the Second Year Science and Medical students and lectures to them in electricity and magnetism. Since his connection with McGill he has done much research work and for several summers was in charge of the X rays apparatus at the Royal Victoria Hospital. His departure from McGill will be very much felt as he formed many friendships among the students.

EQUIPMENT FOR THE MCGILL REGIMENT

Those who have watched the creation and growth of the military organizations at McGill cannot but have felt proud to have witnessed, and probably to have assisted in, such a spontaneous and remarkable evidence of the wish and determination of the University men to completely fill their obligations and privileges as Canadian citizens.

The Officers' Training Corps and the Provisional Regiment are being formed and organized with the complete approval of the University, and with the co-operation of the Canadian Government and of the Department of Militia and Defence. It is intended that the Regiment, and the Training Corps incorporated with it, shall consist of one thousand men. Those serving in the Regiment will be of two classes; the first will consist of University men and it will include 90 per cent. of the whole strength of the Regiment; the second will consist of friends and relatives of the persons in the first class, and it will comprise not more than 10 per cent. of the Regiment's strength. Those seeking admission to the Regiment under the second class will only be admitted after their application has been approved of by a Committee appointed by the Commander of the Regiment and consisting of the Adjutant and of two officers.

Those who join the Regiment incur no obligation to do anything more than they, as individuals, feel to be necessary in order to make themselves fit to efficiently defend themselves and their country. Before a man can commence to be efficient it is absolutely necessary that he should have a sound knowledge of the foundations of the military art. These can best be acquired by service, as a private, in a regiment where squad drill, the use of a rifle, and the rudiments of a soldier's duty can be learned. The prime object of the McGill Regiment is to furnish a convenient opportunity, for learning these things, to every University man who seeks it. It is not intended that the Regiment shall volunteer for active service as a whole, but it is expected that many individuals will volunteer from the Regiment for active service, probably in companies composed of Canadian University men who will go to the front as distinct units. It is intended to take advantage of the professional training of men in the last years of the Faculties of Science and Medicine who may wish to go to the front, by forming service specialist units, such as a corps of engineers, or an army military service corps. Already a definite offer has been made to the Government in respect to the latter corps, and active steps are being taken to insure an opportunity for serving in a professional capacity to the graduates and students of McGill's Faculty of Medicine. Arrangements are also being made by which every man who joins the McGill Regiment may have an opportunity of qualifying as an officer, should he be willing to undertake the work and to give the time for the study which is necessary before a man can pass the examinations for a Lieutenant's or a Captain's certificate.

While the Government has asked that every man possible should be trained it has intimated that it is impossible for the Canadian Government, at present, to defray the cost of equipment and training of any men save those who are actually on their way to the front. It is therefore necessary for those who are forming the McGill Regiment to provide for their own equipment and training. It is estimated that the cost of doing so will amount to between $40 and $50 for each man. While many of the graduates serving in the Regiment will probably bear this cost for themselves, it is scarcely probable that many of the undergraduates could afford to do so. Since there are many graduates and friends of the University who would gladly contribute towards the expenses of the University Regiment, it has been decided to raise a fund of $50,000 for the purpose of equipping and providing accommodation and material for the training of the men of McGill's Provisional Regiment. It is expected that a very large proportion of this amount will be raised among the graduates of the University who are resident in the city of Montreal, and at the request of the University, of the Graduates' Society and of the Undergraduates, a Committee is already at work collecting contributions for the fund in Montreal. Unasked, many McGill men living outside of Montreal have already sent in substantial subscriptions, to the Graduates' Society, towards the expenses of any military organization that might be raised at McGill. A definite opportunity to contribute towards the Regiment will shortly be given to these and to friends of the University outside of Montreal. We are confident that the response to the call for funds will continue to be as prompt and spontaneous as has been the response from the graduates and undergraduates to the call for men.

Many of the Sons of McGill are already at the front. When peace, and the day of reckoning comes it will be found that men, educated at McGill to assume, through knowledge, the direction and leadership of their fellows have not flinched from their duty. For our service in peace we are given mastery; in war may we still serve faithfully!

SPLENDID

The classes of '17 and '18 may well be congratulated on the manner in which they conducted themselves yesterday. For many years "Sports Day" has been marred by unhappy incidents that terminated in the police courts. Exaggerated reports of this would be spread by the press throughout the country, much to the discredit of McGill.

The "Annual Scrap" on the historic battlefield of the M.A.A.A. this year was fought with more vigor and snap than previous years, if

Hail! Alma Mater, we sing to thy praise;
Great our affection, tho' feeble our lays,
Nestling so peaceful and calm 'neath the hill;
Fondly we love thee, our dear old McGill.

Hail! Alma Mater, we sing to thy praise;
Loud in thy honor, our voices we raise,
Full to the fortune our glasses we fill,
Life and prosperity, dear old McGill.

II. TO THE TUNE OF TAMMANY.

Peacefully he slumbers there,
Blissful though we're on a "tear,"
James McGill! James McGill!
He's our father, well yes, rather,
James McGill!

IV.

Old McGill, Old McGill,
Varsity can go to—
R. M. C. and Queen's as well,
Old McGill, Old McGill,
Race them, chase them. Race them,
Chase them, Old McGill.

V.

TUNE: IT'S A LONG, LONG WAY TO TIPPERARY.

It's a big day to-day,
It's a big day to-day,
Because we're going to beat Toronto,
That's what all the fellows say,
We'll cheer for Old McGill, boys,
Cause our hearts are all so gay,
Yes, it's hard, hard luck for old Toronto,
Bue we'll win to-day.

VI. TO THE TUNE OF TIPPERARY.

So it's good-bye to old Toronto,
And it's farewell to Queen's,
We are sorry we've got to trim you,
But the championship it means,
Shag only turns out winners,
Since he is a bear,
And the whole team is made up of lions,
And we are right there.

VII. TO THE TUNE OF "D O AS MUCH FOR YOU."

Rah—we're going to win to-day, boys,
Rah—we couldn't lose to-day, boys,
Rah—we've got the team to do it,
Watch them take the ball down the field,
Buck it over fellows,
Rah—McGill is always leading,
Rah—we're on our way,
We are always winning,
For we're always winning,
Rah, Rah, we're going to win to-day.

VIII. (TUNE MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA)

Now our team is on the field, ev'ry nerve and muscle steeld,
And determined that they'll win or die to-day,
See those fellows sure and strong,
Ready all the line along,
Varsity will have to break and fade away.

IX. RULE BRITANNIA.

When Britain first at Heaven's command,
Arose from out the azure main,
This was the charter of the charter of the land,
And guardian angels sang this strain:

X. MCGILL YELL.

We're out for gore,
We're out for gore,
Keep her low,
Keep her low,
Keep her low,
Let her go,
McGill, McGill,
Queen's! Queen's!
Queen's! Queen's!
Queen's! Queen's!
Queen's! Queen's!

Chorus.

Rule Britannia, Britannia rules the waves,
Britons never, never, shall be slaves,
Rule Britannia, Britannia rules the waves,
Britons never, never, shall be slaves.

XI. TUNE—"EVERYBODY TWO-STEP," CHORUS.

Ev'rybody turn out and yell for Old McGill,
Ev'rybody turn out and join the rooting drill,
Give your yell with all your might,
Ev'rybody turn out and turn out right,
If you want to turn out, don't think you shouldn't dare,
Ev'rybody does it—Nobody ought to care,
Ev'rybody wiggle, waggle—then you start a row, Ev'rybody turn out now.

XII. TUNE, "WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH FATHER?"

What's the matter with George Laing?
He's all right,
What's the matter with Jeffrey? He's all right,
Now all you fellows from Old McGill,
Cheer that team till their hearts do thrill,
What's the matter with our team? They're all right.

(4) In case of violation of Article II, Sections 2 and 3 by a member of the Freshman class, the Honor Committee shall render its decision according to the merits of the individual case. The minimum penalty for such violation shall be a recommendation to the faculty of his suspension for one term.

one could judge from the looks of the rank and file. It was fought, however, in the proper place, under the legitimate rules of war, and no one could possibly object to any of the proceedings.

Great credit should be given to the Freshmen and Sophomores for the manner in which they marched home. They were a menace to nobody, a pleasure to all, marching in good order, with lusty yells at strategic points. We, who have battled with police and civilian over this same route in former years, must take our hats off to these two years in setting an example not only to us, but to their successors in future years.

SOPHS. TRY TO KIDNAP FRESHMEN

Their Only Victim Was Finally Carried by the Police

Attempts made by Sophomores Thursday night, or rather yesterday morning, to kidnap leading officers of the Freshman classes, gave the latter an anxious time, and in one case resulted in the capture of a wanted man and his being lodged at a down town hotel, from which he escaped through the interference of plain clothes constables.

After enquiry, the Sophomores discovered that a number of the Freshie officers were at the graduating exercises at the High School, and this building was surrounded with 17 guards.

The unusual number of cabmen gathered in front of the school attracted the attention of the Freshies, who sensed something in the air. When the time came for their departure shortly after twelve o'clock, a rear exit was made use of, the Freshmen being accompanied by several High School pupils. The two Sophomores on guard at the point proved unable to cope with the superior numbers of the first year men, and returned to the main body for aid, after the Freshmen had beat a retreat to an abandoned house nearby.

When the reinforced Sophomores arrived, they found that their birds had flown. Diligent scouring of the neighborhood revealed the presence of only one Freshie, who was found lurking in a back corner. He was quickly bound and hustled into a waiting cab, with a well-known downtown hotel as his destination.

The sudden appearance of two men, with a third bound hand and foot, proved too much for the night clerk of the hotel, who, while killing time with giving the students the wrong key to their room, it is supposed, "phoned for the police to investigate. At any rate, the kidnapping scheme was brought to an end with the arrival of two plain clothesmen, who escorted the Freshman well without the danger zone, and saw him safely on his street car.

TO PRESENT GUN-DEAFNESS

Would you rather lose your hand or your hearing? Probably most persons would prefer the former. Now the enemy's artillery may deprive you of your hand, while your own may make you deaf; hence the conclusion that under certain circumstances one's own guns may be more dangerous than the enemy's. A writer in "The Medical Record," quoted in "The Scientific American Supplement" (New York, September 26), calls deafness from the concussion of a gun "one of the minor accidents of war," yet he confesses that it can not be ignored. One discharge of a single piece of artillery may put in jeopardy the hearing of a large number of soldiers. In the course of a prolonged "artillery duel," it would seem a marvel that any one's ears remain unimpaired. Protective devices are imperatively necessary. Says the writer mentioned above:

"The aural injuries to which the soldier is exposed are no different from those of the boiler-maker, of the structural ironworker, of the sportsman, and of those who are exposed to the shriek of the railway whistle when a train is passing through a tunnel or covered station. Jobson Horne, in 'The Lancet,' August 15, 1914, points out that the report of a piece of artillery, the concussion of an explosion, or the firing of a cannon close to the ear may exert its injurious effects upon the nerve-terminals of the ear, may cause rupture of the drum-membrane, and may mark the onset of irreparable deafness. During the Russo-Japanese War, among the 1,791 men who were wounded in the naval engagements there were 116 cases of concussion of the labyrinth and rupture and congestion of the tympanic membrane, which cases represented 7 per cent. of the wounded who survived. The injuries to the drum and to the nerve-endings are due to the sudden condensation or rarefaction of the air in the external auditory meatus. As a rule one ear is more affected than the other. Politzer states that with the improvements in modern artillery ruptures of the drum-membrane are now scarcely ever met with, but the sudden introduction of breech-loading, and also to the fact that the serving party withdraws to a distance of about twelve paces, with the exception of one man who attends to the firing, but who also stands at a considerable distance."

The eastern gate which had been previously "doctored" by the Freshmen and a battering-ram which the Freshies brought into use soon had the gate on the ground. Before the rush of the invaders, the Sophomores, who were visibly weaker in numbers, retreated behind the second defences, a line of bleachers, and there awaited further developments, at the same time pouring a withering fire of rotten eggs upon the Freshies. Those who attempted to pierce the defences' lines proved unable to do so in the face of the whitewash brought into use.

Finding that their efforts at this point were of no avail and that every contribution to their further disorganization, the Freshmen withdrew towards the south entrance to the grounds, where the garrison was weaker. This position they carried without serious opposition, and then halted, fearful of again facing the accurate fire of the Sophs. Their need of capable leaders was most clearly shown at this point and when they finally did advance, the Freshmen found the enemy prepared for their onslaught, and well supplied with precautions they had not taken the precaution to provide themselves with. The breathing space of the Freshmen had also enabled the Sophs to gather reinforcements from other positions and to gather further ammunition. Fire extinguishers were rushed from the M.A.A.A. building and played an important part in the early stages of the battle.

At first the advantage seemed to rest with either side, and there were many appeals for help from both '17 and '18. Gradually the resistance of the Freshies was broken, and at the same time of preventing infection."

Eighteen is the Average Age of Freshmen Entering Rochester

Interesting Comparison Figures of the Various Faculties

Eighteen is the average age of the Freshmen entering Rochester University this fall, and the average holds good for the class as a whole or for the class divisions into arts students, science students and engineering students. Thirty-seven arts students average eighteen years and eight months, seventy science students average eighteen years and eleven months, and eleven engineering students average eighteen years and ten months.

The proportion of arts and science students among the men entering this year is almost two to one in favor of the sciences. A year ago the ratio was exactly two to one among the men re-entering for admission, twenty-five entering the arts course and fifty the science courses. That number includes, however, the men who entered the engineering course, then known as group M of the science courses. If the eleven new students in the engineering course this year are added to the science students, the ratio of science to arts students will be more than two to one.

While the average age of arts students is eighteen years, it is interesting to note that the number of men who are eighteen years of age exceeds the number of men in any other single year of age. There are twelve men of eighteen years. Seventeen years ranks second in the number of men in the entering class, with seven men of that age entered. There are five men nineteen years of age, two of twenty, two of twenty-one, and two of twenty-three. There are also two sixteen-year-olds.

With the science courses, the average age again holds the highest number of men. There are twenty men in the eighteen year zone. The next mark is closer than among the arts students, however, for among the science students there are nineteen, each nineteen years of age. There are three sixteen-year-old Freshmen among the science students, while a regular enrollee Freshman gives an age of thirty-four.

lasting fifteen or twenty minutes. The Freshmen, with their hands and feet bare, were carried to the M.A.A.A. building, where, in accordance with custom, their boots were removed and all placed together in a barrel of whitewash.

The vanquished Freshmen presented a deplorable appearance. With their features blackened beyond recognition in almost every case, their clothing bedaubed with mud and the yellow of the rotten eggs, their discomposure was complete. The rotten eggs were without a doubt the most vulnerable of the Sophomores' weapons, and more than one Freshman lost his dinner when struck in the face with the over-ripe packing compound stock-in-trade.

After some of the grime of battle had been removed, the Sophs commenced a "snake dance" headed by Ken Mathewson with the class flag. Attacked by the Freshies, they more than held their own and retained possession of the flag, which was proudly nailed by '17 to one of the goal posts, where it remained during the sports.

The rivalry between the two years continued during the running off of the events, but without any serious clashes being precipitated.

After the sports the two years lined up before the M.A.A.A. building and thence marched back to the college vicinity by way of St. Catherine street and McGill College avenue. The victorious Sophs headed the procession, with the Freshies in the rear. Beyond a slight interruption to street car traffic, the return trip was uneventful and was remarkable for its freedom from disorder.

The students dispersed at the R.V. C. with the McGill yell, cheers for '17 and '18, and the singing of "God Save the King."

Three Freshmen who were imprudent enough to venture upon C.P.R. property at one point in the "rush" were nabbed by detectives of the company, and held until matters were explained by some class officers who hurried to the scene.

The win in both the sports and battle all in one day might be termed a "double day" for '17.

McGILL TENNIS TEAM PREPARED FOR A VICTORY

Dempster, Greene, Cleveland (Capt.), Ward, State and Taylor to Compose McGill Team

Yesterday's play on the tennis courts marked a final selection of the men who will journey to Kingston to represent McGill in the Intercollegiate tennis tournament. The eliminations were very close. Throughout, the different men changing their respective places to considerable extent, a final order of merit has not yet been decided. The team is as follows:

Dempster, Greene, Cleveland (Capt.), Ward, Skeete and Taylor. Dempster "Art" has been a constant every year for a place on the team since he entered college. This year his game has greatly improved. His strong, consistent play, especially on the defense, makes him a valuable member. This year Dempster and Air Evans, Sel, A., a former McGill team man, made a clean up of some of the B. C. tournaments. Greene is a newcomer to McGill this year. Last season he was captain of the R. M. C. team and played with that team in 1912 also. Greene has been playing very fine tennis this season, and should give a good account of himself at Kingston.

Coupled with Greene in the doubles is Harold Skeete. Like Dempster, Skeete has been a constant every year but one since he has come to McGill. This season Skeete has been playing a remarkably strong game. He spent the summer in the Barbadoes, where he developed his game wonderfully. This pair work together remarkably well, considering the short amount of practice they have had together. Yesterday they had a very good game with Cleveland and Taylor, who worked together last year. In Ross Cleveland the team has a stirring captain. His experience at McGill makes him the popular choice for this office. Cleveland played the McGill team last year, and during the past summer has won in both open singles and mixed doubles, in the tourney at Cushing's Island, Portland, Me. At present he is playing his usual strong game, his driving yesterday was very effective and strong. Cleveland and Dempster make a very strong double, working together in excellent style.

Ward is a newcomer on the McGill team. He has been developed during the past summer into a very brilliant player. Being a "lefty," his strokes are awkward to handle and to place against him. This places him at a great advantage. Taylor, spare man, has had considerable tennis experience, having won events in several tournaments in Winnipeg and the West. Last season he was on the McGill team, but during the past season has not been able to get in any practice. Taylor is a very good player, and should give a good account of himself at Kingston. The draw for today is as follows:

Freshmen singles, 2 p.m.: Branch vs. Merritt. Sutherland vs. Hardman. Club singles, 2 p.m.: Cleveland vs. Newsum. Greene vs. Laviolette. Skeete vs. Ward. Freshmen singles, 3:30 p.m.: Ross vs. winner Branch-Merritt. Farthing vs. winner Sutherland-Hardman.

THE GALLANT MAYOR

From a small provincial town in the north of Italy came an amusing little story. Queen Helena was visiting the city. At the moment when the unveiling of a statue of Victor Emmanuel was taking place, the mayor of the town had made an elaborate speech of welcome, he handed a glass of champagne to the queen, and asked to be allowed to drink her health. As their glasses clinked, a drop of champagne fell upon the queen's gown. She opened her eyes and looked at the mayor. "There is no need of that," she said. "I have already said for you."—Washington Star.

"Why don't you say something for me?" "I have." "Huh! I'd like to see you much." "One dollar." And latest quotation on umbrellas is "Eight cents."—Houston Post.

THE SECOND AND THIRD SQUADS ARE READY FOR TO-DAY'S GAMES

Mackay, Matthews and Symonds Will Form the Back Division of the Intermediates Against the Tricolour

QUEEN'S WILL BE REPRESENTED BY STRONG TEAM

Macdonald College Will Send a Husky Team to Compete With McGill Juniors in Initial Encounter

Yesterday morning a combination military drill and football practice was held by the gridiron squad. For about half an hour the second and third teams worked out against each other, while those members of the senior squad that were present kicked the ball around. The two teams that have games to-day showed that they are both ready to give good accounts of themselves. Shaughnessy had charge of them yesterday morning, as McEwen was unable to get out till the practice was almost over. Shaw worked the men hard, and seemed well pleased with their work. The second team, at present, is not nearly as strong as McGill's intermediate fourteen last fall, but they ought to be able to stand up well against Queen's Seconds. The great trouble has been the scarcity of backs, but McEwen seems to have at last got three men who are able to play on a half line. The third team is also much handicapped by lack of men for the back division, but by strengthening the line, Coach McEwen hopes to have offset the weakness behind it.

Mackay, Matthews and Symonds will be the back division on the intermediates, and are especially fast on their feet. Matthews is showing all sorts of speed; while Mackay, at centre half, is boosting the ball, his kicking in the game last Sunday against St. Lambert's being a marked feature of the contest. Symonds, the other man on the back line, is a former Loran Canada player, and possessing plenty of speed and cleverness. Roseborough, Parkins and Forbes, at flying wing, and the two outside wing positions, are all three very good tacklers. Forbes is a substitute on the senior squad, but is playing to-day with the intermediates, who are short a man as the result of Woods having sprained his ankle. The line is heavy and, unless the Queen's wings are exceptionally good, ought to be able to hold them. Eberts, is down to play flying wing on the line, it being hoped that this husky player can be prevailed upon to get into a uniform and help out the thirds, who are very short of men. If he gets into the game he will probably be looking for this team. Tainboth and Hall, at quarter, are two good footballers, while Todd, at quarter, has been showing up well in practice. Little is known about the Macdonald College team, but the Agricultural College can be counted upon to send in a husky fourteen from St. Amos. The junior game will start at one o'clock sharp, and the intermediate attraction at three o'clock. Buster Reid will probably handle both games.

Yesterday morning, Pawcett was chosen captain of the second team. He played on the intermediates last season and was overwhelmingly the popular selection for this position. He is playing quarter in to-day's game, and will run the team.

Shaughnessy, after the half-hour or so of military drill, put his seniors through a thorough signal practice. He also tried out some new plays, which worked exceedingly well, and which were watched with great interest by the fans. Hillary Bignall made his first appearance of the season in the dressing room, and may be out at practice early next week. His presence on the line would be about the best thing imaginable that could happen to the Red and White team at this time, when they are in such sore need of good wing men.

The teams for this afternoon will be: Second. Roseborough, Flying wing—Eberts, Symonds—Halves—Hall, Mackay, Matthews—Halves—Ralphboth, Fawcett—Quarter—Todd, Tucker—Scrimmage—Creaghan, Macdonald—Scrimmage—Charlton, Parsons—Scrimmage—Ryan. Third. Inside wing—McLean, A. C. McKusker—Inside wing—DeRoche, Wilkins—Middle wing—Fox, Parkins—Outside wing—McKenzie, Forbes—Outside wing—Parker. After the practice, Coach Shaughnessy called all the men together at the centre of the field and told them to form up in three lines, he himself in the first line. Many of the fans who were watching the practice thought for a moment that perhaps Shaughnessy was going to try out some wonderful new play, somewhat after the style of the famous X, Y formations of last season. Nothing of the kind was the case, however, as the lining up of the men was preparatory to their first drill since they enlisted in the McGill Provisional Battalion, which, it will be remembered, the football squad joined "on several days ago. George Laing, Mike Montgomery and Terence Hall, each took charge of a squad and began to put their men through the simplest movements of infantry drill. Montgomery was able to get back at the Big Coach for some of the calling-downs that he had received, and was able to do a little calling down himself, when the person in question would insist on turning to his right instead of to the left, when the command "Left—Turn" was given. However, nobody was sent around the track. All the men entered heartily into the drill, and whether or not it was on account of the discipline they have been under in the football squad they seemed to grasp the meaning of the commands, and how to carry them out, very quickly.

There will be a practice of the senior squad this morning, as Shaughnessy does not want to leave any chance to have a work-out slip through his fingers. New faces are appearing at every turn-out now. It would not be surprising to see both or either Dempster, Bignall, out this morning. Their appearance is sure to be most pleasing to the fans.

Things Theatrical

MARION LEONARD AT THE LONDON THEATRE.

The London Theatre, St. Catherine Street, opposite Phillips Square, has obtained a great feature for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday's programme. It is entitled "The Drift" and is in three parts. It is a society drama pure and simple, and relates to crime and tragic love.

Another thing in its favor is that Miss Marion Leonard will be seen in the title role and this fact in itself should be a big drawing card to this accomplished motion picture star has worked her way into thousands of hearts in this city by her true art.

The story relates to a young man playing the stock market who goes against him. His broker calls upon him for a large sum of money which he cannot pay. He is then taken to a bank where he finds a burglar in the house, who, after a fight, is set on fire, and the burglar is killed. The young man, who is now a millionaire, is then taken to a bank where he finds a burglar in the house, who, after a fight, is set on fire, and the burglar is killed.

The chum later meets the girl and marries her under an assumed name. One day while walking with his wife he meets his former employer, the banker, and arouses his wife's suspicions by his action, and after reading in the paper of the trial in which he is accused by his friend of stealing the money, admits it to his wife, who feels she has to report it to the police. Thus has the drift of society claimed two more victims.

There will be a game this afternoon against the English Rugby Club on Fletcher's Field. The following men will be at the Union at 2 o'clock sharp:

Tuohy, McNeill, Clarke, DesBrisay, Latham, Yeo, Beveridge, Murray, Kemp, Twinnbrook, Ryan, Ferguson, Swanesky, Brown, McPhail, Baker, Watson.

THE BOY'S JOB.

A small boy seated on the curb by a telephone booth, with a tin can by his side, attracted the attention of an old gentleman who happened to be passing. "Going fishing?" he inquired, good-naturedly. "No," the youngster replied. "Take a peek in there." An investigation showed the can to be partly filled with caterpillars of the tussock moth. "What in the world are you doing with them?" "They crawl up trees and eat off the leaves." "So I understand." "Yes, I'm looking a few of them." "Sending 'em up this telephone pole," Judge.

NORAH'S BAD BREAK.

Norah was a new girl in the employ of the Smiths, and hardly had 24 hours passed before she had the misfortune to drop a piece of roast beef on the floor. Roast beef that has been used as a mop for wisdom to consign it to the garbage can.

THE COLONIAL.

The Colonial has certainly got a most attractive programme for next week, commencing Sunday with a three-reel drama of unusual excitement and interest, "The Queen of the Counterfeiters," a Keystone comedy, "Such a Boy," and "Our Mutual Girl," as well as other short dramas and comedies. There is no doubt this place is well worth a visit. In addition, they are showing every week genuine moving pictures from the seat of war, taken by Pathé's and other well known film makers, which at this time are a most notable feature, and bring the Colonial well in the front rank of picture houses.

HARRIERS CLUB TO ATTAIN BIG NUMBER OF MEN

Effort Is Being Made To Get Every Available Man To Join

The harriers will have another practice run on Monday, Oct. 19, starting from the "shack" at 5 o'clock—rain or shine.

The turnout so far has been decidedly disappointing, and it is hoped that all those men who have ever done any running will realize that it is up to McGill to win the championship from Varsity this year.

Now that the Fresh-Soph Meet and the Inter-Year sports are over, the men who have been doing track work will be able to take up long distance work—and it is expected that Monday's showing will be more gratifying to Coach Baily, who has been devoting his valuable time purely and solely for the love of the game. It is only reasonable to expect a good response from the men to Mr. Baily's efforts.

As the intercollegiate meet is only three weeks away, the runs will be held three times a week, starting this coming Monday, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

An opportunity will be given those who wish to drill as well as run, to do so with the newly-formed six o'clock squad.

The following men are asked to be out on Monday at five o'clock sharp: Hague, McLeod, Baisland, Dandridge, Gennie, Moore, Alverga, Lowrey, Antiff, McCreary, Kirk-Greene, Newhook, Lalanne, Fraser, McKellar, Morretrie, Struthers, and any others who were out on Wednesday last.

GLOBE COMMENTS ON 'VARSITY TEAM

Crawford Will Not Play To-day

Not even the disastrous defeat at McGill last Saturday has stopped the University of Toronto senior team in their efforts to bring the Intercollegiate championship to Toronto. In fact, the loss has done them a world of good, as they know what is required of them if they are to win the title.

Last night the entire squad was in uniform with the exception of Hume Crawford. The Auburn-haired youth, who has been tried on the backfield, outside wing, and in last Saturday's game with McGill at quarterback, has developed poisoning in his arm, which will keep him out of Saturday's game with Queen's at the local stadium. With Crawford out of the game, the railbirds who attend the practices came to the conclusion that Canfield last season with St. Michael's, would be missed at the keystone position. Coach Gail, however, sprang a surprise and placed Billy Milne at quarter.

For an hour before the first and second teams lined up for their practice game Coach Gail drilled Milne in passing the ball. In the game the little fellow fitted into the position in excellent style. With one more night in which to get rid of the rough spots Milne should be ready to take his position against Queen's. Milne's specialty is dodging and ability to take advantage of the least opening on the line, and his new position should give him a splendid opportunity to show his value.

INTERYEAR SPORTS AT M. A. A. A.

In the broad jump, Farthing did well enough to beat such good men as Cushing and Evans, the former only being able to come within two and a half inches of the winner's mark of twenty feet. Farthing jumps well, he has a good take-off, and rises right up as he jumps. Cushing lost distance every time by jumping from behind the mark.

Farthing registered another win, the hurdles, when he again just beat out the diminutive champion of last year. The time of eighteen and a fifth was very slow for this event, but both men had just finished jumping in the broad jump, and the effects of their efforts in the latter event slowed them up somewhat. Pope, the other entry in this event, did very well, and was right up with the two other men.

White, who had already won the half-mile, ran again in the four-forty, and came across the mark first, beating out Fraser in the stretch in front of the grandstand. Alberga was third, being right behind Fraser.

It was mentioned above that Smelzer was third in the all-around championship, and nothing was said about either White or Farthing, who each also scored ten points, which would leave them tied with Smelzer for third place.

A week's rest was staged between six representatives of the two first years in the University. It was in the way of a relay race, in which the first man ran a hundred yards, the second man walked a hundred yards, the third man hopped a hundred yards, the fourth man walked backwards a hundred yards, the fifth man ran a hundred yards and the sixth man crawled a hundred yards. The Freshies won out, the men being equal when they came to the crawl, and the first year representative crawling right away from his competitor. The general theory among the judges was that the Sophomores should have been given a handicap in the crawl, as the Freshies were having a much nearer acquaintance with the crawl, were much more at home at this style of getting over the ground than the Second Year students.

Result:—1 Cushing, 2 Marsh, 3 Antiff, 10 feet.
100 yards—1 D. C. Smelzer, 2 A. W. Heron, 3 O. L. Fraser, 10 1-5 secs.
Half mile—1 White (Macdonald), 2 F. S. Parsons, 3 G. V. Douglas, 23 1-5 secs.
